Old Will Give Way to the New in Norco School Buildings

Architect's drawing of the proposed new one-story elementary school to be built east of the present High school in North Coventry township. It is a functional structure estimated to cost about $250,000 and will accommodate 360 pupils. Directional glass block walls, bay windows and individual exits from each of 12 rooms to the outdoors are among its innovations. The school will do away with four present outmoded buildings in the township (shown at left). Gymnasium-auditorium (far right) will be two stories and have boiler room and shower rooms in the basement.

North Coventry to Construct $250,000 Grade School

The proposed construction of a modern, functional-type, one story elementary school building costing an estimated $250,000 was announced last night by E. Gilbert Stauffer, president of the North Coventry school board.

Barring unforeseen developments which would hold up its completion, the board expects the school to be ready for use by the opening of the 1951-52 term.

Plans and specifications for the project, designed to accommodate 360 pupils, await only final approval of School Plans division of the State Department of Public Instruction before bids are let.

The move, in which the school actually will be rented from a locally-appointed building authority, will thus eliminate four outmoded elementary school buildings presently in use and will end the necessity of renting classroom space in a school at Monocacy.

AS SPOKESMAN for the board, Stauffer, along with Supervising Principal Paul H. Grim, said the new school will have the latest in equipment and facilities and will combine many of the features of up-to-date buildings in Pennsylvania and elsewhere visited by the board during the planning phase.

Among the innovations to be included in the building are directional glass exterior walls and plastic tile floors for which special approval was obtained from the Department of Public Instruction.

There will be 12 classrooms, each measuring 24 by 36 feet, a cafeteria, an auditorium-gymnasium 70 by 90 feet, to be used also as a community center, and a large foyer.

Each classroom will have an individual bay window and separate exits to the outside. Each will likewise have its own lavatory facilities for boys and girls, closets, cabinets, double-drainboard sinks, drinking fountains and moveable desks and chairs.

The gymnasium-auditorium is designed to permit installation of collapsible bleachers seating up to 500 persons.

THE BUILDING will be U-shaped, approximately 375 feet wide. The arms of the "U" are 200 feet in depth.

In order to provide space for its construction, the board last March purchased a five and a-half acre tract of land adjoining the High school property to the east at a cost of $5000 from the John Halderman estate.

The purchase of additional land now gives the school a tract 1146 feet long and 484 feet wide, with its frontage on Route 100.

In order to improve the land immediately behind the present High school building so as to provide a better baseball diamond, a better football field, and a more level approach to the elementary school, grading of the tract has been in progress for several weeks.

IN PRESENTING the reasons which motivated the school board in its decision to build, Stauffer explained that there was much concern over the prospect of a greatly increased elementary school population in the next five years.

Secondly, he said, the increase of births in the township showed that from year to year, the number was greater in various areas, so that in viewing

Citizen's Complaint Awaits Meeting With Burgess

Howard N. Oister, 410 Jefferson avenue, who said he was told by police to mind his own business when he called borough hall Thursday night to complain of pranks being played at Lincoln avenue and Washington street, declared that he was unable yesterday to reach Burgess William A. Griffith with his complaint, but that he would try again today.

Oister complained that he was told, "Mind your own business" Thursday night when he called borough hall police headquarters about the pranks.

The Jefferson avenue man said he saw the barricade twice within 20 minutes when he drove past the intersection. It was a crude wooden affair, he said, large enough to damage a car if a driver came upon it suddenly. He believed it was placed there by neighborhood pranks.

After he called Desk Sgt. Irvin K. Frederick with his complaint, Oister declared that he would tell Griffith of the incident.

He also wanted to inform Earl R. Strange, chairman of council's police committee, but Strange will not return until late today from a traffic safety convention in Chicago.

Griffith affirmed last night that Oister had not reached him. The burgess said he could not take any action until a formal complaint had been made.

CHURCHMEN AIR FAMILY'S ROLE

Home Should Emphasize Christian Training, Is Lutheran Parley Decision

Families and the church must unite in the Christian training of children, 275 laymen, lay leaders and pastors of 20 Pottstown area Lutheran churches were told last night.

The decision came after a panel discussion on "Families for Christ" at Emmanuel Lutheran church pointed out families are pushing more and more of the Christian training of children on the church.

The discussion was the highlight of the annual conference of the Pottstown district of the Northeastern conference of the Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania.

It was conducted by State and national Lutheran leaders under the direction of the Rev. Earl F. Rahn, Philadelphia, executive secretary of the Board of Christian Education of the Pennsylvania Ministerium, who acted as moderator.

PARTICIPATING in the panel discussion were the Rev. Rahn; Missouri Lausch, superintendent of the Lutheran Children's bureau, Philadelphia, who replaced Dr. C. H. Bechtold, executive secretary of the ministerium's Board of Inner Missions; the Rev. Marcus Otterbein, Philadelphia, a member of the Parish and Church school staff of the

October Weather Averages 2 Degrees Hotter Than Usual

Since the first of the month, there have been 41 degrees more than normal—or, about 2 degrees per day hotter than most years.

And 31 of those 41 degrees have been piled up in the past three days during as lush a burst of Indian Summer as even an Indian would care to see.

The weather has farmers doing totem dances of joy.

A comparatively cold, wet and sunless September held up maturity of the corn. Now the corn in many places has too much moisture to be harvested. But the sun is doing the trick.

C. Rudolph Kulp, Kendilworth farmer, estimated that kernel moisture now amounts to about 25 percent. Fourteen percent is considered safe. Higher than that and mold is likely to set in after storage.

But the sun is drying it quickly and husking should begin full force next week, he believed.

MEANWHILE, FARMERS have not been idle waiting. Most winter barley and oats are in the ground now and winter wheat is being planted. Also there have been odd jobs to do—as discing under worn-out tomato plants.

Pair Escapes Death In Huge Rock Slide

TONS OF STONE TRAP WORKER IN POWER SHOVEL

Other Employee of Quarry Steps Out of Path Shortly Before Pit Wall Collapses

Two men came within inches of being crushed to death at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon when 100,000 tons of stone thundered down the south wall of the Stowe Trap Rock company.

One was Edward Coldren, 59, of Reading, who was trapped in the cab of a power shovel when the avalanche let loose.

The other man was Frank Lucchi, of Douglassville, RD 1, an elderly employee who moved away from where the stones landed seconds before they roared to the quarry floor.

Coldren escaped from the cab without assistance. He suffered only a mashed right index finger and cuts and bruises of the legs, where pieces of trap rock flew into his cab.

After continuing to work at the quarry to help free the imbedded shovel, Coldren told a Mercury reporter, "I'm pretty lucky to sit here and talk to you tonight."

LUCCI, who lives adjacent to his place of employment, was injured less seriously. He was merely scratched by stray pieces of trap rock.

Leo A. Malley, of Philadelphia, quarry superintendent, said that he had never seen a rock slide of such proportions during his 10 years with the Stowe Trap Rock company.

The superintendent said there was no known specific cause of the avalanche. The rock usually gives several hours warning, especially after the base of a wall has been blasted.

Then, as the bank "works" or shows signs of coming down, men and equipment are moved to the center of the quarry, safe from harm. The quarry is 400 feet in diameter and 135 feet deep.

Yesterday afternoon, however, there was almost no warning. As Coldren described it:

"I first saw the bank start to let loose. I hollered for the truck driver and everybody to get out of there. Then I put the machine in gear, but I only got back about eight feet before I was caught."

ASKED HOW HE was able to free himself immediately, the shovel operator replied, "I just got out. It's hard to tell just how it happened. It was all too quick."

Coldren refused to be taken to a hospital for treatment of his injuries. He was given first aid at the company office and continued to work until 8:55 p. m., to help free the imbedded front end of his shovel.

The Reading man was operating a shovel weighing 60 tons, with a boom 28 feet high and a scoop with a capacity of one and one-quarter cubic yards.

Lucchi had been in front of the shovel just before the landslide began. He moved around to the rear.

Chest Fund Drive Now at $29,000

Slightly more than $29,000 toward the $98,000 goal of the 1950 Pottstown Community Chest campaign was reported by the special gifts committee last night at the Howard Johnson restaurant.

Although $5000 less than was reported at the same time a year ago, campaign chairmen indicated the drive was "running fairly close to what was expected." It was pointed out that several workers have been ill and were unable to attend the session to report.

Forty cards which had been turned in at this time in 1949 still were outstanding because the committeemen were not present.

"It doesn't look bad," J. R. Sotter, president, declared, "although there is less money than last year. There are still some gifts outstanding."

The report meeting of the special gifts committee precedes the opening dinner of the general campaign at the YMCA Tuesday night. The affair will begin at 6:30 o'clock.

Guest speaker will be Reading Company President Rev. W. Brown, president of the United Fund, Philadelphia. He will be introduced by George J. Parker, general manager of the Spicer Manufacturing division of the Dana corporation.

THOMAS A. McCASLIN 3d, who, with Benjamin Longaker, is co-chairman of the Red Feather drive, said the leadership of two important divisions, labor and management, had been settled during the past week.

James H. Corum, president of Flagg Local 2326, United Steel Workers (CIO), and Howard G. Hartenstein, president of Doehler Local 1056, United Auto Workers (CIO), will head the labor division in industry, McCaslin revealed.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will head the western division of management as a group. Stanley Prizer, of the Doehler-Jarvis corporation, will head the central division, and Henry West, of the Firestone Tire and Rubber company, will head the eastern division.

McCaslin told the special gifts committee of the appointments in a brief talk covering the progress of the drive during the past week. Charles L. Schurz, chairman of the committee, presided at the meeting.

Restrictions on Rubber May Cut Workers' Hours

AKRON, Ohio, Oct. 20 (AP)—Most tire companies declined comment today on the government's new rubber restrictions, but observers predicted a reduced work week probably will result throughout the industry.

The five main rubber plants here now employ some 50,000 workers. For the most part, they are on a 36-hour, six-day week.

Justice of Peace Sends Summons to Harriman

A summons on a reckless driving charge against H. Robert Harriman, 222 King street, has been sent by Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley, of the Second Ward.

The offense, Kelley said, is a summary charge involving the payment of a $10 fine and costs. No hearing will be listed in the case unless the charge is disputed, he added.

MacArthur Says End Of War in Sight as Units Join Above Pyongyang

SEOUL, Saturday, Oct. 21 (AP)—U. S. 1st Cavalrymen sped 30 miles north of Pyongyang today and linked up with 3000 American paratroopers, clearing the way for three South Korean divisions reported massing for a sweep to the Manchurian border.

The linkup solidified positions first seized Friday by the paratroopers within 80 miles of that border.

General MacArthur watched the dramatic parachute drop from his plane and pronounced the end of the Korean war in sight.

Then he flew to Pyongyang, where he was reported to have ordered the South Korean forces to rush to the Manchurian border as fast as possible.

The South Korean 6th division had linked up with the paratroopers Friday a few hours after the air-dropped. The paratroopers operation slammed the doors of escape on North Korean Red troops around Pyongyang, their fallen capital.

The South Korean 6th, 8th and 7th divisions, were expected to make the push north.

"THE WAR is very definitely coming to an end," General MacArthur said after watching two battalions of the 187th Regiment, (Continued on Page Three)

Area Children Urged To Get Ready for Hallowe'en Parade

Francis Donnon, Pottstown's recreation director, last night alerted borough boys and girls to start getting ready for the Hallowe'en parade on Oct. 31.

"The time is here to start preparing for the parade," Donnon declared. "It takes a little while to work up a costume with some originality."

Boys and girls will have plenty of opportunity to show what they can do with Hallowe'en costumes, for there will be five classifications—funniest, national, impersonation, prettiest and most original. Each category will be divided into two groups, 10 years and under, and 11 years and older.

There also will be a special rolling division. Anything on wheels, from a truck to a tricycle, can enter the decorated vehicle division.

AS THEY DID in 1949, when the Hallowe'en parade idea was given a post-war boost, the youngsters will march down High street from where they form, between Adams and Washington streets, to York street.

There, each of the marchers will receive a Mrs. Smith's pumpkin pie, to be distributed by Lions club members. Members of other service groups, the Optimist, Rotary, (Continued on Page Three)

Suspect in $200 Theft Caught After Chase

Elmer Drumheller, 40, Cedarville, Pottstown RD 2, was held in a borough hall cell yesterday, charged with stealing $200 from a woman who lived at his house.

North Coventry Police Chief Daniel W. Guldin, who arrested him after a wild auto chase that covered most of the township, said Drumheller admitted taking $100 on two occasions from Irene Sienkowski.

He and Robert Hoppe, Bethlehem Steel company police officer, spent much of the day checking a large quantity of tools and other items that Drumheller, a worker at the Bethlehem plant, had in the car he was driving and in another old car parked near his home.

Guldin said he was checking Drumheller's story that he got the items at rural sales markets and Pottstown stores.

the one to the Hunsberger shop.

HUNSBERGER DISCLOSED the thefts first began with only one or two from a box and later increased until whole boxes were being taken.

This method of operation paralleled the one used against the Peoples Service Drug store on High street a month ago.

At that time, however, the thief was stealing cinnamon buns left by the Schulz Baking company. He would take one or two from a box of four, W. L. O'Connell, pharmacist, said, but occasionally would make off with a whole box of four.

Patrolman Robert Houser had kept a watch on the drug store for a week, but the thief apparently had a vantage point from which he could spot any police trap. He avoided the drug store for the entire week Houser was watching for him.

The thefts began originally at Frank Leveille's market, 334 Beech street. Kaufman said. Later the thief moved down toward Hunsberger's luncheonette and then out onto High street.

100 Fathers Arrive At The Hill to Attend Annual Conference

About half of an expected record-breaking crowd of 200 fathers had arrived at The Hill last night for the annual Fathers conference.

The remainder will arrive today and all will depart tomorrow.

During the stay, in addition to a formal conference tonight, the parents will sleep in their sons' dormitory rooms, attend classes, meals and chapel with them and confer with teachers.

The conference is the official opening of the school's centennial program.

The fathers have convened from far-flung points. One hails from Bogota, Columbia; another from Maracaibo, Venezuela; two come from Texas, another from Michigan.

Individual conference sessions with masters in scattered rooms over the campus highlighted last night's activity.

After attending classes this morning, the fathers will watch The Hill-Mercersburg football game this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Tea will be served at the headmaster's house at 4 p. m.

The formal conference in Memorial hall at 7:30 p. m. will open with a welcome by Dr. James I. Wendell, headmaster. Isaac Thomas, senior master of the school, will discuss "The Hill of Yesterday."

William H. Bell, school treasurer, will thank the parents for gifts which they paid for the $150,000 remodeling of the Middle school.

The principal address will be given by Owen J. Roberts, former associate justice of the U. S. Supreme court.

The fathers, faculty members and their wives will meet afterwards for an informal reception in the library hall.

THE FALL MEETING of the board of trustees also was held last night at the school with 11 of the 19 board members present. The trustees checked off plans for the coming centennial celebration.

Among trustees attending were Briggs S. Cunningham, Greensfarms, Conn., who heard the first ringing of the $3500 set of chimes he donated to the school. The bells, in the chapel tower, sound Westminster chimes four times per hour. They started regular duty yesterday.

Also present was George W. Perkins, a trustee, who is Assistant Secretary of State in charge of European affairs.

just in time to escape the full force of the tons of trap rock.

Coldren rolled his huge machine backwards for eight feet, then stopped when flying rock caught the boom and scoop and jammed his throttle and other mechanisms.

AS SOON AS the avalanche settled, efforts were started to free Coldren's shovel. Another power shovel, operated by Cleon C. Tempelin, 61 West Fifth street, began moving rock.

At the same time, some of the 20 employees who were in the quarry when the rock slide took place began moving stone by hand.

Among these workers was Coldren, who refused to stop work and go home until the job was done. "I just stayed there," he said later. "It was the only thing to do."

From the road looking over the quarry, the rescue operations made a weird tableau. The place was dark, except for the orange and red glow from the boiler of Tempelin's steam shovel, and the occa-

Neither Coldren nor Malley was able to put an estimate on the damage to the shovel. The superintendent said he would have to inspect the machinery this morning before he could give the probable cost of repairs.

The superintendent's first thought was for his men, but when he learned that they were safe, and when the rescue work was completed, he noted that there was no damage to the rock itself.

"We won't have to do any blasting for a while," he pointed out.

PARATROOPERS—

11th Airborne Division, drop from 120 planes on the North Korean highway hubs of Sukchon and Sunchon. Both are about 30 miles north of Pyongyang.

The true purpose of this first paratrooper action of the Korean war was (1) to seal off northward routes of escape for any Reds between those points and Pyongyang and (2) to effect the rescue, if possible, of any American prisoners of war.

It was not yet clear how many Reds may have been caught between the paratroopers and the United Nations forces in Pyongyang.

An Air Force summary, however reported that fighter-bombers caused more than 400 Red casualties among retreating Reds in that area Friday—the day of the paratrooper operation.

It also said seven Red tanks were knocked out only two miles beyond Pyongyang.

Many of the casualties were inflicted in strikes at the two towns which were the objectives of the paratroopers.

Man Injured in Fall On Way to Police Cell

Charles Moyer, 49, of Reading, suffered a laceration over the left eye last night when he fell down the steps leading to the borough hall lockup.

Moyer was being shown to a cell after he had been arrested on a charge of being drunk. The warrant was issued by Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley.

As he started down the steps behind the desk sergeant, he apparently tripped and fell.

He was taken to the Pottstown hospital for treatment, escorted by Sgt. Thomas A. Lawler and Patrolman Paul I. Galloway. Later, he was conveyed without incident to one of the cells.

It will be cooler today, the weatherman said, with a high of perhaps 65, but sunny most of the day. Tomorrow will be about the same temperature and cloudy.

The extended forecast predicted temperatures 4-to-6 degrees above normal through Wednesday, with rain Monday or Tuesday.

Historical Pageant To Be Repeated at Falkner Reformed

"Witnesses in Trust," a historical pageant, will be presented for the second time at Falkner Swamp Reformed church tomorrow afternoon in commemoration of the 225th anniversary of the founding of the Reformed church in America.

The pageant was presented at 4 o'clock the past Sunday afternoon to more than 400 persons. More than 200 persons had to be turned away at the church.

Written and directed by Mildred B. Hahn, a member of the Reading High school faculty, the pageant is divided into five parts. It concludes with the entire congregation taking Holy Communion.

The Rev. John B. Frantz, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, will have charge of the brief worship service preceding the pageant at 4 o'clock. The Rev. Frantz was confirmed in the Swamp church in 1922 while his father, the late Rev. John F. Frantz, was pastor.

Participating in the pageant are William Robert, 626 Chestnut street, a member of the congregation, and Richard Mensch, 46 West Sixth street, whose father is a member of the congregation. The old Communion set used in the pageant is the property of Zion's Reformed church and was loaned by the Rev. Howard A. Kosma, pastor.

Historically, the Swamp church is connected with local Reformed churches because many of the first pastors also served the German Reformed church in Pottstown, as well as the church at New Hanover. At that time, members of the Reformed church worshipped in what is now known as the Old Brick Church—Zion's Reformed church.

Whose Business Is Religion?

By DR. EMIL SCHORSCH
(Rabbi, Congregation Mercy and Truth)

MANY people seem to think religion is the clergyman's business.

This is about as logical as assuming that a nation's health is the business of the doctors.

Doctors made the preservation of health and the fight against sickness their task, their study, their object of research; but self-evidently, it is every individual's business.

In a similar way, religion was made an object of study and detailed research by countless clergymen and interested, open-eyed laymen; but it is every one's business.

The lack of insight in this simple fact is a major cause for the deplorable and incomprehensible indifference which is slowly infecting and polluting the atmosphere of civilization.

When the demoralizing and pernicious result of this process becomes visible to all, it will be too late to do anything about it.

A human world without religion will be choked to death, and in its hysterical, fearful convulsions the good ones will inevitably perish together with the evil ones.

This is the reason for the sacred and inescapable duty, imposed on men of understanding, to raise their voices as long as there is still time.

This is the reason why leading laymen, scientists, psychologists, and so forth, stand up today and profess their faith in religion publicly. They feel that the preservation of mankind's safety cannot be left any longer to theologians and clergymen alone.

When rising floods threaten to sweep away the protecting dams, engineers can only point out the work to be done; if not thousands join hands in re-enforcing the crumbling barriers, they all will be drowned.

Many may think, it is not so dangerous; preachers, they suspect, exaggerate like propagandists to make people do what they want them to do.

Others may even mock and call out — to use Isaiah's words — "Let Him make speed, let Him hasten His work, that we may see it." And others again, simply don't want to be bothered.

But we need only a little imagination to realize the true situation.

If you lived today in a communistic society, your life would be in danger; if you were not a member of the "proletariat"; if you owned something, because this philosophy of historic materialism has uprooted the religious teaching of Judaism and Christianity: "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

You might end in a prison, in a slave labor camp. You might be one in a pile of corpses as the North Koreans left them when they were busily murdering before their retreat.

Or in a racial dictatorship: people who were not members of the "superior" race could, at best, vegetate as slaves; but millions were burnt to ovens.

These are not isolated instances one can refer to. This is a new system of thinking engulfing civilization and scathingly described, 2700 years ago, but the prophet (we replace the word "city" with "world"):

"How is the faithful world become a harlot! She that was full of justice, righteousness lodged in her, but now murderers."

Murder has become a world-wide business and menace again in our day, just as it was before the "Flood" when "The earth was full of violence."

For centuries religion spread the teaching of world-peace. The United Nations have become the political instrument of this religious message. If there were time enough we could wait until, after limitless suffering, the Kingdom of Peace would be finally established on earth.

But there is no time any longer in an atomic age.

One cannot continue to let the dike of religious morals break down and crumble, and hope to escape the consequences of almost incredible blindness.

And since every one will have to pay — with possessions and life — it is time to recognize that religion is every one's business.

Dear Sir N Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where a heat wave is back. Now we can shelve the poem: "The frost is on the pumpkin and the fudder's in the shock; the bathing suits in mothballs and the o'coat's outta hock!"

The President is back at Washington after a trip. He said he had to be away because he had to be at a Wake!

And say: I'm the happiest man around because National Hat Week ends today. From now on, I don't have to run for cover!

Negroes 'Overlooked' for Jury Service, He Protests

Charges Discrimination
To the Editor: In regards to the editorial of Thursday, whereby Judge Knight has appealed to the citizens of Montgomery county to serve on juries, it brings to my mind a rank injustice which has been practiced upon the Negro citizens of Pottstown.

At no time can I recall a Negro citizen of Pottstown having been called for jury duty. This is a discriminatory practice which I have protested during the years, to no avail.

To appeal, whether carried to the politicians or other powers, has been very conveniently overlooked. During every war in which this country has been involved, including the Revolutionary war, the Negro has fought and shed his blood for this, our country, and even now our young men will answer the call to arms to preserve our democracy.

How can the politicians talk democracy, here and abroad, if it is not practiced here at home? Here in Pottstown we have Negroes in every walk of life, qualified educationally and in every other way to serve as jurors, yet that privilege is denied.

To continue to ignore our group and deprive them of their rights as citizens and taxpayers serves to reflect on our ability and integrity as citizens of the community, and belittles this democracy of which we are so justly proud.

Pottstown JAMES H. CORUM

EDITOR'S NOTE: Judge Harold G. Knight, president of the Montgomery county common pleas court, denied discrimination against Negroes yesterday.

He said he personally had placed "dozens of colored persons' names in the jury wheel."

He could not control, however, striking off of the names by lawyers, he said. Judge Knight invited interested Pottstown citizens to send him names of persons who would make good jurors.

And Now Helicopter Cops?
To the Editor: Pottstown has got more foot policemen, another patrol car. But that ain't all it needs.

How about a helicopter to help spot burglars who get into offices through the roof?

Darned if it isn't one thing after another.

What Workers Want
To the Editor: It was nice that the Mrs. Smith Pie company bought a television set and a chair for one of its faithful, retired employees. I am sure most of us, in our retirement, would wish for something as thoughtful.

More than that, those of us who are still able to stand up to a machine day after day hope they can be considered by our employer before we have too few years to live.

Some of us don't have pensions to look forward to. We have to depend upon what social security will provide and what little we've been able to put in the bank.

A union has come into our plant, offering the little things that make our years of working more pleasant. Many of us didn't expect as much as we've been promised. We would have been satisfied with much less.

This is where the employer, if he had more thought for our welfare, could have helped — both us and himself.

The average working person who is satisfied with his or her job doesn't need to have the world with a fence around it. But workers have problems that change with the times, such as making ends meet as prices go up.

We don't ask anything like a television set or comfortable chair as gifts when we retire. Better that we have the comforts that come from longer paid vacations and better pay while we still can enjoy them.

Proud of Our Doctors
To the Editor: All of Pottstown and vicinity, especially Royersford, should be proud of the honor that came to Dr. R. K. Glocker.

Our doctors often are criticized for many things. Some patients think the doctors should have no time to themselves. Others think they charge too much or are neglectful of human lives.

This is all rot. We have good doctors as can be found anywhere. They are conscientious and ambitious. They have helped give us two excellent hospitals.

Let us rejoice when one of these "men of mercy" is given national recognition. Let us be glad we have such experts to treat us when we are injured or ill. Congratulations, Dr. Glocker!

'BOOTS AND SADDLES'

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYN

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 20 — Vic Damone, of the Sinatra carbons, is well again after being bedded a week with an infected leg. Vic, Jane Russell, Alan Young, with Steve Allen m'ing, are just some of the talent appearing at the annual Pan-handle dinner tomorrow night at which Hollywood's publicists fete all the columnists and rib the you-knowwhat out of them! . . .

Long time no see Priscilla Lane on screen, but she'll share billing with Ella Raines and Dick Foran when "Port of Call" goes before cameras next month. Picture is being produced by Saturn, an independent company. Priscilla, who proved herself such a fine actress during her long contract at Warners, retired from movies when she married several years ago, mothered a baby, made a brief comeback about two years ago — and then "disappeared" again. . . .

CLAUDE RAINS, finished with his key role in "The Gaunt Woman" (The Dana Andrews-Carla Balenda starrer) has hied himself east to be in the new Sidney Kingsley play, "Darkness at Noon." Hollywood's loss. . . .

By the way, Bill Andrews, Dana's younger brother started his picture career in "Gaunt Woman." His part is small, but important enough to be getting him an extensive series of screen tests at RKO this week, plus a similar routine at 20th-Fox where they're also interested in signing him. Bill's only previous acting experience was a fling at that Summer theater in La Jolla, with Gregory Peck. . . .

IF WERE NOT too fresh, would like to ask: Remember those wire-service yarns, published nationally some months ago, about how war-hero Audie Murphy was giving away his medals? Did he? Who got them? Also what about the publicity agent Audie rejoining his Texas outfit on Aug. 22nd — only to be followed by his current movie job in "Red Badge of Courage," followed by more announcements about his going back in the Army, followed by a story few days ago that he may follow "Red Badge" with another picture, "The Woods Colt"? Huh? It isn't just the many cynical queries we've had via mail that make us ask "What really goes on?" Our big question mark is raised by the obviously conflicting statements, whether true or false, mentioned above. If Murphy is being the "victim" of many a press-agent dream, he should clear the air by personally stating what he really intends to do insofar as his return to the Service is concerned — particularly at a time like this. . . . The daughter of a beautiful Corinne Griffith ever so quietly married a non-professional in Beverly Hills last week. . . .

LITERARY SOCIETY—The Amity Literary society was re-organized at a meeting held at the Amityville schoolhouse. The following officers were elected: Vernon De Turk, president; Charles Rhoads, vice president; Stella Ruth, secretary; Rhoads, treasurer; Mary Ludwig, censor. . . .

LOSERS HAND—George W. Nagle, of Glasgow, who operates a stone quarry business, lost his right hand and a portion of his forearm in a premature explosion of powder. He was rushed to Pottstown hospital where the hand was amputated. . . .

OLD ORGAN SUNDAY—Old Organ Sunday was observed in Zion's Lutheran church near Spring City. There was special music directed by George I. Sload. The pastor, the Rev. J. E. Mohn, made an address. The old organ was played by Naomi M. Scheifele, of Royersford. The instrument was installed in 1791 and it cost 150 English pounds. . . .

MOTORCYCLE POLO—The Pottstown Motorcycle club held its first polo match at Mill Park and defeated Phoenixville, 2-0. Stars for the Pottstown team were Donald Scheifele, Cy Tringley, Howard Hackman and Ralph Cauler. . . .

Legion Junior Nine Ends Season With $716.64 Deficit

Members of Charles B. Yerger Post 471, American Legion, at their meeting in the Legion home, were told the operation of the Junior Legion baseball team the past summer caused a tremendous loss financially.

This loss was attributed to poor attendance.

Chairman Robert Greenwald's report showed total expenses of $1007.69, and receipts of $291.05, for a net deficit of $716.64.

One big expense was the traveling of the team to other towns. Each time the players were bought meals and a bus was chartered.

This deficit does not include the cost of new uniforms which the players used this season. The uniforms were donated by the Boyertown Businessmen's association.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas party for Legionnaires' kiddies. Commander Elwood Romich appointed four judges for the local Halloween parade.

Religious Freedom Made State Great, Rev. Ruth Tells High School Students

The Rev. Frank W. Ruth, of Bernville, a member of the State senate, addressed 840 members of the high school student body yesterday afternoon in the Pennsylvania Week assembly, on the topic, "Pennsylvania, What We Have and Are."

The Rev. Ruth stressed the need for realizing that Pennsylvania is a great State. He said no political party made Pennsylvania great. Pennsylvania became a great State because of the religious freedom which was guaranteed by William Penn and the Assembly at Chester in 1762.

He added that there are 50 nationalities in abundance in our State, while in some of the surrounding states many nationalities were discouraged because of the lack of religious and economic freedom.

Senator Ruth spoke of the geographical factors of Pennsylvania. "Although we are 32d in land size, we are among the leaders in all economic phases," he said. The network of roads are a determining factor, he added. Pennsylvania spends 400 million dollars bi-annually for building or repairing highways.

Ruth said the Pennsylvania turnpike is the finest in America and the world, where a person can travel 300 miles with no cross traffic or a signal light.

THE SENATOR STRESSED the number of products manufactured in Pennsylvania, and the amount of tax paid to the United States on alcohol manufactured in the Commonwealth. He added that we pay 465 million dollars per year, more than we spend for the upkeep of our 10,000 schools and two million students.

Ruth emphasized the value of the farms and their products, plus our animal and fish abundances. Only 12 percent of the farms in Pennsylvania are tenant run, whereas the national average is 42 percent tenant operated.

This, he explained, is why our farms are so well kept and the yield per acre so high. He added that there are 172,000 farms in the state.

Miss Ida M. Reinert, music supervisor, led the assembly singing and several numbers by the Junior chorus.

The high school band, under the direction of Paul Hansen, played an introductory number while the students filled into the auditorium. The committee in charge of the program consisted of Herbert Hartman, Mrs. Josephine B. Beirly and Harry I. Gilbert.

RURAL ALLOCATION MADE WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—An allocation of $1,621,540 was announced today for Pennsylvania for loans to groups planning rural electrification expansion during the year ending June 30.

Moose Responds Angrily To Ranch Hand's Yodels

STEAMBOAT SPRINGS, Colo., Oct. 20 (AP)—Jack Kelton, 25-year-old ranch hand, liked to yodel and hear the Swiss yelps bounce back in echoes from the mountains.

He was at work near Haas peak a few days ago, happily yodeling and chopping brush.

Suddenly a hefty and obviously critical bull moose charged out of the timber straight for Kelton. "I had only an ax," said former yodeler Kelton, "and I had to run like hell. Anyway, it's against the law to kill a moose."

Russia, Red Nations Air Reich Rearming At Prague Meeting

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 20 (AP)—V. M. Molotov of Soviet Russia and foreign ministers of seven other Communist nations met here today with the announced purpose of discussing "the remilitarization of Western Germany," which the Soviet government has warned it will not tolerate.

The Czechoslovak news agency and the Moscow radio announced the meeting tonight. It was called by the Soviet Union.

Molotov, a Soviet deputy prime minister long out of the Kremlin limelight, apparently is acting as Soviet foreign minister at the meeting. Andrei Y. Vishinsky, who succeeded Molotov as foreign minister March 5, 1949, is now attending the United Nations assembly meeting in New York.

There were repeated reports last August that Molotov was visiting Peking, the capital of Communist China, for a conference on Asian affairs. A Japanese anti-Communist organization in Tokyo said—without confirmation—that Molotov was talking over with Chinese Red leaders an invasion of Formosa. Chinese Nationalists in Taipei, the Formosan capital, said Korea was a topic.

They said Russia and Red China had agreed to rush 150,000 Chinese Red troops and Russian armor to North Korea if united nations forces crossed the 38th parallel. The U. N. forces have since crossed that boundary and are now striking deep into North Korea, against limited resistance.

THE COUNTRIES represented here, aside from the Soviet Union, are Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Romania, Hungary and East Germany. Among those present is the Communist woman chief of Romanian foreign affairs, Ana Pauker. The chairman of today's meeting was Czech Deputy premier Zdenek Fierlinger.

The announcement of the meeting followed by a few hours Russia's warning to the United States, Britain and France that Russia will not tolerate a revival of the "German regular army in West Germany."

The warning, contained in identical notes to Washington, London and Paris and broadcast from Moscow, rejected charges by the three Western powers that the People's police of Communist-ruled East Germany is in fact a military organization. Russia charged that the Western nations were reviving German military might in their own zones.

FRANCE ALONE among the main Western powers has been holding out against the rearming of West Germany. The United States is for it. Britain accepts the idea, but would like the other North Atlantic pact nations to rearm first.

The Germans themselves are divided.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer called on his people tonight to take part in West Europe's defense, but ruled out remilitarization. Speaking at a congress of his Christian Democratic Union party at Goslar, he said: "Nobody has asked such (military) commitments. No offer has been made either."

The Moscow radio's report of the Prague conference said:

"On the initiative of the government of the Union of the Soviet Socialist Republics, a conference of the ministers of foreign affairs of the U.S.S.R., Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Romania, Hungary and the (East) German Democratic republic opened on Oct. 20 in Prague."

High Officials Attend Inspector's Funeral

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20 (AP)—Top ranking city officials today attended the funeral of Inspector Craig D. Ellis, who committed suicide Tuesday.

Nearly 2000 spectators lined both sides of the streets during the funeral services. Six members of the Philadelphia Police Vice squad served as pallbearers.

As they carried Ellis' casket from the funeral home Mayor Bernard Samuel, Safety Director Samuel H. Rosenberg, Police Superintendent Howard P. Sutton and other officials stood at attention.

Mrs. Mary Jones Ellis, the widow, sat calmly through the services and walked unaided from the chapel.

The female sea-horse deposits its eggs in a small pouch on the body of the male.

Mrs. John Yonkovitch Reveals Secret Of Making Good Slovakian Holipkes

By GRANNY HIGGINS

Have you ever noticed the way some foods smell so good when cooking that you just can't wait to taste them?

Sometimes the dish may be disappointing, but not if its holipkes cooked by Mrs. John Yonkovitch, 345 Cherry street. She knows just how much of this, and how much of that, to put into the pot, when making the Slovakian dish just as did her mother and grandmother.

The ingredients she gives below will serve four people amply.

1 pound hamburger
1 cup brown rice
Pinch of salt and pepper and a pinch of hot peppers.

After these have been assembled, take a medium sized head of soft cabbage and place it in boiling water for about four minutes until the leaves are loosened.

Then, take a piece of garlic and enough onions to cover the bottom of a frying pan, and fry until brown. Mix the hamburger, rice, salt, pepper and hot peppers in a pot with the browned garlic and onions. These can be mixed to suit the taste of the individual.

The next step can be made very easy if you'll follow Mrs. Yonkovitch's directions. Usually we jab the cabbage leaves full of toothpicks in order to close them over the meat mixture. Mrs. Yonkovitch tells how to avoid using the little wooden crutches.

Take a leaf from the cabbage. Hold it in your left hand and place a tablespoon of the meat mixture in the leaf. Roll the cabbage up and, using your left thumb, stuff each end inside of the roll, forming a tight pocket.

Now, on the bottom of the pot place a half of a small can of sauerkraut and lay the holipkes side by side. On top of these place the remainder of the sauerkraut. Over that goes a small can of tomato sauce and this topped with two strips of bacon.

Boil over a medium heat until the rice is done, covering with water. This dish is made complete with a broiled sirloin steak, mushrooms made in butter, and a salad.

The salad Mrs. Yonkovitch serves with her meal consists of black olives, olive oil, a half lemon, honey instead of sugar and onions. Jello adds a light touch for dessert.

Play Plans Discussed By Emmanuel League At Executive Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Emmanuel Luther league executive board was held recently at the home of Miss Dorothy Arndt, 40 West Sixth street, with Mr. Gene Fritz, president, presiding.

Deviations opened the meeting. Plans were made to hold the Luther league play, "In Walked Judy," sometime in December.

Religious Customs of Amish People Told By Rev. Smoker to Transfiguration Group

Facts concerning the religious customs of the Amish people were related to members of the Young Adults of Transfiguration Lutheran church by the Rev. John L. Smoker, pastor of Baltimore Evangelical United Brethren church recently.

Giving a brief history of the plain people, the Rev. Smoker, who was born a member of the Amish sect, stated that they are followers of Jacob Ammon, who broke away from the Mennonites in the 17th century.

They came to America in 1714 and settled near Hamburg, but moved to Morgantown because of Indian raids. They are now living in Lancaster, Lebanon, Somerset, Chester and Mifflin counties in Pennsylvania and some are located in nearby states.

The Rev. Smoker told the group how they migrate to other sections for three reasons: not enough land for the children of the community to have farms of their own; cheaper farm land in other sections, and division of thought as to modern conveniences.

ON THE TABOO list of modern conveniences are telephones, electricity, tractors, heating systems, bath tubs, television and automobiles.

Preparations for the church service, conducted every other Sunday at various homes, are begun the day before. A group of six to 12 neighbors come in to clean the house and prepare the food, and the men bring benches on hay flats and set them up in the room.

The Amish set out in their wagons for the service at 7 o'clock in the morning, and the service may begin at any time the bishop of the district feels there are enough people present — usually at about 8:30 o'clock.

"The single girls sit opposite the single men, with the others, including the ministers and bishop, in the center. The men sit with their broad-brimmed hats on until the hymn is announced, then they remove them and begin singing in long meter with no set notes," the Rev. Smoker said.

"ONE MINISTER makes the beginning. He may talk for the greater part of an hour, hesitating at intervals to say that he doesn't want to take up the time allotted to his brother minister, but he continues to preach anyway," the Rev. Smoker smiled.

"When he has finished, the Scripture and prayer are given and the

Trojans Invade West Chester

A renovated Pottstown High team with accent on youth seeks the rebound formula today when it takes on West Chester's TD-garbed Warriors in a Chesmont league contest on the West Chester field at 2:15.

Lineup changes have delegated starting positions to three sophomores, with at least three many more slated to mix it with the Warriors before the afternoon is through. The move springs partly from a rebuilding plan and partly from a plot to put more zip in the Trojans.

Today's game will be the 32nd renewal of a series that dates back to 1908, and the Trojans will be attempting to make it two in a row over the hosts. No Pottstown combination of teams has been able to accomplish that feat since the 1936 and '37 units turned the trick. However, from 1944 through 1946 the Trojans boasted two wins and a tie. In all, West Chester has won 19 times, Pottstown has won nine and three games have resulted in ties. Today the host is favored.

THIS YEAR, neither team has been sensational. Pottstown won its first two, over Upper Merion and Ben Franklin, then bowed in order to Norristown and Phoenixville. The Warriors have beaten Lancaster, P. S. Dupont and Bridgeport, while bowing to Phoenixville and Downingtown in league frays. Against the one common foe, Phoenix, the Warriors were dumped, 12-0, while Pottstown sank, 7-0. Trojan changes shift Mike Kriczy and Bob Sutton into the right end and right tackle slots respectively ahead of Tom Pollick and George Ciskic. Another switch sends Dick Welser to starting center. Otherwise the lineup remains the same, although soph guard Bill Garrow and soph halfback Fred Harvey are expected to be early replacements.

WEST CHESTER will field a bulky line that fronts for a quartet of speedy and shifty ballcarriers. The Warriors are another T-team, with considerable accent on the overhead games.

That could mean that the contest may be a passing game.

Trojan quarterback Stan Chaplin has instructions to throw more often today than in the past. Jackie Nichols and Jack Clark are the West Chester pitchers, with wingman Dick Flag, a behemoth at six-two, 215 pounds, a favorite receiver. Neither team is rated any conference championship chance, but a win for either would like the winner's league card.

At the bell, they'll run like this:

Owls Meet Lebanon 11

The Gablesville Owls, victors in three consecutive tiffs since dropping their inaugural, meet the Lebanon Gophers tomorrow afternoon on Owl field, in a 2 o'clock engagement.

The Owls were victorious in last year's tussle, also played on the Gablesville grid, by a 6-0 count, and the Birds will be trying to add the Gophers' hides to those of the Harrisburg Eagles, Columbia and the Camden Bears already hanging on the victory rack.

However, the Gophers are composed mainly of graduate representatives of three fine football institutions — Lebanon High, Lebanon Catholic and Lebanon Valley college, and are expected to present a trying puzzle for Coach Truck Yentsch's proteges.

THE Lower Pottsgrove Sportsmen's Association open their Fall season with a flying board shoot this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The shoot will take place at the new club house which is located on Sprugel's run road, directly opposite the Sanatoza Schuykill river project basin. Everyone is invited to inspect the club's new facilities. A request has been made by the club concerning birds that they banded and stocked early this past Spring. Anyone shooting a bird banded with L.P.S.A. is asked to mail the band and information as to where it was killed to Lower Pottsgrove Sportsmen's Association, Box 11, Sanatoza.

IN PENNSYLVANIA the fur trapping season opened at 7 a. m. Monday, October 16, the first day that raccoons may be taken by either the hunting or trapping method. Many trappers will shoulder their traps and head for the streams, the fields and mountain woodlands placing their traps in search of wild fur during the 'coon, mink and beaver seasons.

The fox, weasel, skunk, and opossum are not protected until September 1, 1951. It is estimated that considerably more trapping pressure will be placed on these animals during the coming season, due to the fact that scarcity has closed the season on the muskrat. Pennsylvania's most popular fur animal.

Rittenhouse Junior High Hands Cubs Third Loss of Year 24-0

Rittenhouse Junior High's whirlwind attack ripped apart Pottstown's Juniors yesterday in Norristown and paved the way for a 24-0 Ritt triumph before a crowd of 500 onlookers.

It was Pottstown's third scoring in five games, and the worst defeat the Cubs have suffered in several seasons. For the Ritts, it was the third successive triumph of the campaign.

Led by slippery George Cagliola, who raced two punts back for the first two Ritt TDs, the hosts ran up an 18-0 first half working margin, then breezed home. All that came after Pottstown made the first pass at the end zones and failed five yards out with less than three minutes gone in the ball game.

The Cubs never could get their offense rolling, and although they outscored the Ritts in first downs, 7-4, they were fidgeting dead in their own real estate most of the afternoon. Only battling Red Kerr was able to move afoot, and he found the task too great without support.

THE RITTS suffered a seige of fumbles on the opening kickoff and Joe Rettew reclaimed a loose leather for the Cubs at the foe 40. Kerr skipped off tackle to the 23 and an Ed Sova to Tom Fiorillo aerial clicked at the 20. Howie Bedell banged to the 15 and Sova flipped again to Fiorillo at the seven. Van Hohen circled end to the five, but on the next play, Kerr fumbled and the Ritts recovered.

That was Pottstown's sole threat.

After an exchange of punts, Pottstown found itself buried at its own one-yard line. Ray Donnelly made a nice pickup of a bad pass from center and booted beautifully to midfield. There, Cagliola picked up the ball, sifted through a host of defenders, struck for the sidelines and loped into port with a comely escort. His kick try was bad, but Ritt led, 6-0.

IT HAPPENED again early in the second quarter. Donnelly again was booting from the shadows of his goal posts and this time kicked to the 35. Again Cagliola opened the jets, worked to the sidelines and jogged home. Kick was blocked, 12-0.

Just before the half, Cagliola invited Bono to the party. He faded at the Pottstown 30, found Bono clear up the middle and pitched a TD strike. A rushing try for the point failed and at halftime the hosts held an 18-0 advantage.

THE TWO TEAMS played on even terms in the third quarter, but Rittenhouse was up to old tricks in the finale. Tony Moles short-circuited one of Sova's desperation heaves at the Pottstown 44 and the Ritts were away.

After stuttering for three plays, Cagliola got his gang going with a 28-yard pass to Ed McKay at the Cub 17. Moles tore over guard to the 13, then Bill Golston, an end, carted the bacon home on an end around play. Cagliola, with passing ideas on the extra point, was smothered by the Cub line and it remained 24-0 until the end.

coming Day at Kutztown, the Patton men meet the highly rated Trenton team in the third home game of the season. Trenton is in the undefeated column so far this fall, and the New Jersey Teachers will be going all out to avenge last year's defeat.

This week, long scrimmage drills, both offensive and defensive, are on the Kutztown program to correct blocking weaknesses that slowed down offensive play last Saturday.

Kutztown STC Seeks 3d Win

Kutztown Teachers scored their second win of the season over a much improved Montclair squad on the latter's home field last Saturday. The Golden Avalanche, however, was extended all the way to score its 15-6 victory. An injury to Bud Lambert, of Kutztown, in the first play of the game probably hurt the K-town offense.

Ursinus Meets Swarthmore in 40th Grid Test

Ursinus college fan, old, current and new, hope that the Gene Glick to Dick Glock touchdown combination is not just a passing fancy today when the Bruins take on Swarthmore college before what is expected to be a homecoming crowd of 5000 onlookers.

Glick, the passer and Glock, the receiver, have accounted for all three Ursinus touchdowns as the Bears have dropped its first three games by lopsided scores. The duo is deadly through the air, but Ursinus is expected to cook up a matching running attack today against the so-so Garnet.

As a matter of fact, for the first time this year, the Bears rate even-up with their foe, despite the fact that captain and front line quarterback Don Young is ailing and unable to play.

Ursinus has lost to Drexel (26-0), Haverford (20-12) and Dickinson (39-6) in order while Swarthmore dropped a 32-0 decision to Washington college and nicked Wagner, 9-7.

Fullback Ben Maliken and halfback Chick Scirica, both in top notch form, are expected to provide Ursinus' ground-gaining fireworks today behind a line that features 235-pound all-state candidate Bill Heifferich, a center.

IN THE SWARTHMORE lineup will be Pottstown's Johnny Franz, former Hill School standout. Franz plays defensive left end and offensive right end for the garnet.

Swarthmore features three adept flingers, Bill Jones, Nick Cusano and Dana Swan in its T-formation backfield. All are rated tightlipped passers, but the Garnet ground game has not shown to advantage in previous encounters.

The contest to get underway at 2:30 o'clock will be the 40th renewal of the series.

East Stroudsburg Beaten 27-0 by West Chester TC

WEST CHESTER, Oct. 20 (AP)—Freshman Fred Prender ran 69 and 21 yards to score two of the four touchdowns West Chester State Teachers college tallied in the final period tonight to defeat East Stroudsburg Teachers, 27 to 0, for the 19th consecutive home football victory.

Earl Hersh, sophomore fullback, scored on a seven yard jaunt and Jack Birmingham took a 15-yard pass from frosh quarterback Ray Spafford for the final TD.

West Chester got two points late in the first quarter when John E. a. n. Stroudsburg back, was tackled behind his own goal line by Norman Waldman.

West Chester had 13 first downs to East Stroudsburg's 10. East Stroudsburg..... 0 0 0 0-0

Penn Favored, State Underdog In Grid Tests

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Pennsylvania and Columbia, a couple of Ivy league teams which usually kick up a pretty fair football fuss when they get together, meet tomorrow for the 33rd time.

It will be homecoming at Baker field, where Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower—Columbia president—will help dedicate a new $500,000 field house and the Lions attempt to stop rampaging Red's Bagnell.

Bagnell jumped from 42nd to 3rd in national total offense rankings when he gained a record of 490 yards against Dartmouth.

Columbia counts on the accurate passing of its quarterback flash, Mitchell Price. The sophomore ace has a 568 aerial average, with 21 completions in 37 throws.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 20 (AP)—A capacity crowd of 36,000 can expect to bask under clear skies, with an unseasonably warm temperature, when Nebraska seeks an initial victory over Penn State's football team here tomorrow.

Nebraska hopes for a win rest mainly on sophomore halfback Bob Reynolds, who has scored 53 points in three games, and passing Senior quarterback Frank Nagle.

Something Up Your Sleeves, Gentlemen?

Hill School's football board of strategy took timeout for a meeting as the Blue prepped for today's invaders from Mercersburg Academy. From the smiles, you might think the Blue board has plotted malice for the Mercers.

Hill Meets Mercersburg Academy

By comparative score analysis, Hill School rates as the point underdog today when it takes on strong Mercersburg Academy on Hill field. But this is a year of football upsets, and the Blue-Gray has its sights set on just that sort of skulduggery this afternoon.

Coach Jack Riley's team has dropped two straight engagements since swamping Williamson Trade here on opening day. One of the losses was a 14-0 setback at the hands of Woodberry Forest.

THE FORESTERS were thumped soundly, 14-0, when they took on Mercersburg the next weekend. That creates the comparative score rating.

Coach Jack Riley, however, is hopeful that his green team is turning brown, even as the Au-turn leaves. Early in the season he made the statement that if he could get his club by the first two or three games, the sailing would be smoother.

Erudite Riley failed to guide his charges safely past the last two ambushes, but they gained valuable experience nonetheless.

TODAY'S CONTEST will develop into a passing duel before the day is out, with Lamar Hunt doing Hill's tossing. Hunt has had only so-so aerial success thus far, but he had to start from scratch as a pitcher and has run into foul luck.

The big co-captain will get plenty of help from a pretty fair country running staff of Hays Baker, Al Fitzgerald and Dean Leith. Baker is the outside threat and Hill's best ground gainer to date. He has averaged well over seven yards per run in the first three games.

Hill's line goes to the post today with Art Barren and Pete Scott at ends, Earl Killian and Al Reed at tackles, Ed Garbisch and Roger Judd at guards and Bob Hancock at center.

Riley feels that his picketmen will be up for the game after turning in a fine performance in vain against the much bigger and better equipped Lehigh Frosh line the past Saturday.

In the last contest between today's antagonists Hill won, 24-14.

Greenie Hockey Team Takes Two From Bluebirds

East Greenville High's girls hockey teams took a pair of decisions from Schwenksville, Thursday, at Schwenksville. The Greenie varsity took a 2-0 nod, while the EG yearlings prevailed, 1-0.

Joyce Benner added her second half goal to Peg Hillegass' first half score to furnish the winning margin in the front-line tiff.

Gloria Benner's first half for the Jackets was the lone score of the skirmish between the reserve elevens. The loss was No. two for the Schwenksville varsity, as against a single win and one deadlock.

Steve said they called the boy aside to question him.

"Know what you're doing out there?" Steve asked.

"Nope."

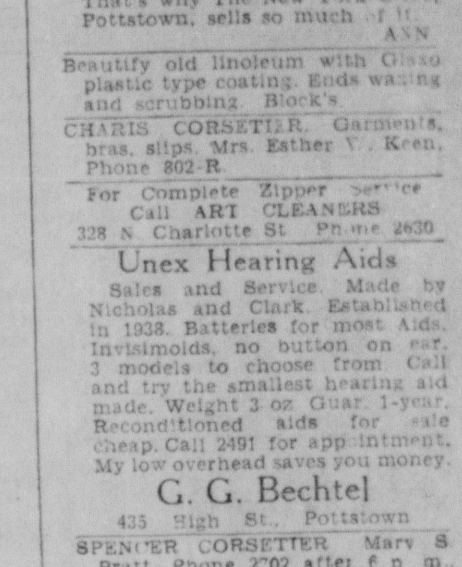

"Anybody ever teach you anything about pass defense?"

"Nope."

The boy wasn't good enough to make the team, Owen says, but he taught Steve something which he passed along to other players with some success.

Right now Owen is working on another innovation, which he calls the inside flutter. It has to do with the

His First 'Hike'

Mileage is being piled up by 2-year-old Michael Laley in an 8-hour "hike" up and down the corridors of Community Hospital in Big Rapids, Mich. Michael was forced into the long walk after he swallowed a bottle of pain-killing tablets. Doctors pumped out his stomach, but said he had to be kept awake eight hours. The hand is that of his mother, who escorted him on long walk.

In the clutches of
THE LAW
and he doesn't know why

Most of the teen-age youngsters who run afoul of the law do not know why!

They can hardly be expected to realize that a lack of proper moral and religious training has left them ill-equipped for honest, decent living.

In many cases, their parents did not give them the advantage of religious education in the Church. And so, all their lives they may have to pay the penalty of their parent's neglect.

Juvenile Delinquency is hard to cure, but it is easy to prevent. The Church, with the support and cooperation of faithful parents, can equip every child with the sure foundation of Christian truth.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
